COLD TONIGHT.

Wednesday Fair, With a Cold Wave; Variable Winds.

Forecast till 8 p.m. Wednesday.-For the District of Columbia and Maryland, rain or snow and colder tonight. Wednesday fair, with a cold wave: variable winds, becoming fresh to brisk westerly.

For Virginia, fair in western, rain in eastern portion; colder tonight. Wednesday fair; much colder, with a cold wave; fresh southerly winds, shifting to westerly. Minimum temperature past twenty-four hours, 23; a year ago, 24. Weather conditions and general forcast,-The disturbance that was central Monday morning in western Texas has increased greatly in energy and moved rapidly northeastward to central Ohio. An area of high pressure and much colder weather has swept southward over the eastern slope, causing freezing temperatures to the Texas coast. A second depression is moving southeastward over the northeastern Rocky mountain slope, and pressure continues high in the plateau region and the northeastern districts. Heavy snow has fallen in the Ohio valley, the lower lake region, and there has been rain in the lower Mississippi valley, Tennessee, and the western portion of the south Atlantic states. The weather has cleared in the middle Mississippi valley and the

It is considerably warmer this morning in the upper Ohio valley and lower lake region, also in the south Atlantic states. It is also warmer in the northwest and much colder in the southwest, temperatures having fallen twenty-five degrees to thirty-five degrees in Arkansas, northern Texas, western Tennessee, and the lower Ohio valley. The Ohio storm will move rapidly north-eastward, giving rain or snow tonight in the middle Atlantic states and snow in the lake region. The weather will clear in the south Atlantic states tonight, It will be much colder tonight in the east gulf states, the upper Ohio valley and generally along the western slope of the Appalachians. It will be colder Wednesday in Atlantic coast districts.

The winds along the middle Atlantic coast will be brisk to high southwest to south shifting to northwesterly; on the south, shifting to northwesterly; on the south Atlantic coast fresh southwesterly, shifting to brisk north-northwesterly, and on the east gulf coast brisk to high northwesterly, diminishing. Cold wave warnings have been issued for the middle and south Atlantic states, east gulf states, eastern Tennessee, eastern Kentucky, West Virglnia, eastern and southern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and western New York.

Storm warnings are displayed from Jack-sonville to New York. Steamers departing for European ports will have fresh easterly winds and rainy veather to the Grand Banks.

This was not the first time Mr. Powers has appeared in this city as an entertainer, and his reputation was such as to bring out a large audience. He interpreted the comedy "Borrowed Spectacles," taking every part and portraying the two brothers and all the minor characters in a manner that secured him generous applause. The audience last evening was one of the largest of the second est of the season.

VIOLATED THE LAW.

Robert Kanode Pays Fine for Shipping Milk Without Permit.

Robert E. Kanode, who conducts a dairy farm at Gaithersburg, Md., was a defendant in Judge Kimball's branch of the Police Court today on a charge of violating the law regulating the sale of milk. He was accused of sending milk into the District without first having obtained the necessary permit from the health department. He admitted the charge, and Judge Kimball, upon hearing the facts, imposed a fine of $20, which was paid.
The charge against Kanode was filed De-

The charge against kanode was filed December 2 last on complaint of a representative of the health department, who explained to the court that kanode formerly had a permit to send milk from his farm into the District for sale, but that it was revoked because of the presence of several typhoid fever cases on his farm. The defendant, it was charged, again sent milk here during the latter part of November without informing the health department of his intention and without getting the necessary permit. necessary permit.

Kanode explained the matter by saying that he got a certificate from his physician to the effect that the fever patients had recovered, and he did not know it was necessary for him to have the permit renewed. The court, however, informed him to the contrary and took the action stated. Demands Jury Trial.
